

Intro to Eventing Workshops at Sinead Halpin Equestrian with Assistant Trainer Megan Kepferle

Intro to Eventing is a summer program we are launching to encourage those curious about eventing, or in search of a new perspective on combined training. Our goal is to teach the building blocks of dressage, show jumping, and cross country riding to produce positive experiences and new tools that can be applied in any discipline.

Eventing is a sport that requires many different tools and often the foundations of the sport are not built properly which leads to frustrations and misunderstandings for both the horse and rider.

We are here to show you new challenges and help you safely learn something new with your equine partners. Riders will learn how to ride a dressage test, practice tools needed for a clean and accurate show jumping round, and confidently and safely contest cross country obstacles.

This program is great for kids and adults, horses and ponies of all ages and abilities. For those who are interested in competing, there are plenty of local unrecognized and recognized events, dressage shows, and jumper shows that we can go to. But for those who are just curious to try something new, there is no pressure to compete.

Workshops will be weekly with sessions no more than 3 people. I will reserve Monday afternoons and Wednesday afternoons and we will alternate between flat and jumping.

XC sessions will be off the farm and will be scheduled after students have completed at least one flat and one show jumping session.

Come join our energetic team for some fun this summer!

FIRST SESSION MONDAY JUNE 8th

Dates: Mondays and Wednesdays at 5:30 PM, Some Weekends depending on Competition Schedule

Place: Mountain View Farm, 98 N Four Bridges Road, Long Valley, NJ

Price per session: $75

Sign up for two or more sessions: $65

Please check www.sineadhalpin.com for more information!

Please call 240-577-9102/megan@sineadhalpin.com to reserve your space